Since 1961, AFE has funded more than $18 million in research, scholarships, internships, and grants.

Through industry collaboration and contributions, the American Floral Endowment helps ensure that the floral industry has the resources it needs to continue to grow and prosper for generations to come. With your support, AFE provides:

Research & Education to...
- Increase the vase life of flowers and provide best practices for disease/insect control, production, post-harvest, sustainability, and more
- Help industry members network, learn, and grow their business by offering grants for continued education

Scholarships & Internships to...
- Provide students with hands-on training at internships that ensures they are ready to join the workforce after graduating
- Financially aid students pursuing floriculture/horticulture allowing them to focus on their studies and graduate with less debt
